

Who is that in the Pointy Hat?

How do you know who is who?

Here is a list of people, their regalia, and an acceptable way to greet them.

You cannot always tell at first glance who someone might be because not everyone wears his or her regalia. In this instance it is always appropriate to address them as MiLord or MiLady.

PERSON	GREETING	REGIALA
King & Queen	Your Majesty	Crown of gold
Prince & Princess	Your Highness	Crown of silver
Duke & Duchess	Your Grace	Coronet with Strawberry Leaves
Count & Countess	Your Excellency	Coronet of gold embattled
Viscount & Viscountess	Your Excellency	Coronet of silver embattled
Landed Baron & Baroness	Your Excellency	Coronet of gold with Pearls (spheroids)
Court Baron & Baroness	Your Excellency	Coronet of silver with Pearls (spheroids)
Honorable Lord & Lady	Your Lordship/Ladyship	Regalia from their grant level award.
Lord & Lady	Lord/Lady	A simple circlet no wider than 1"
Knight	Sir/Dame	White belt, gold chain, gold spurs
Master of Arms	Sir/Dame	White baldric, gold spurs
Squire	MiLord/MiLady	Red belt or baldric, (silver chain), silver spurs
Pelican	Master/Mistress/Dame	A chapeau and/or a pelican in its piety
Protégé	MiLord/MiLady	Yellow belt
Laurel	Master/Mistress/Dame	Wreath of laurel leaves
Apprentice	MiLord/MiLady	Green belt

The Midrealm Order of Precedence

King & Queen
Prince & Princess (Tanist & Tanista)
Dukes/Duchesses
Counts/Countesses
Viscounts/Viscountesses
Peers of the Realm (Kings, Pelicans, Laurels)
Territorial Barons/Baronesses
Court Barons/Baronesses
Awards and Orders conferring Grants of Arms
1	Dragon's Heart
2	Gold Mace/Greenwood Company/Bronze Ring/White Lance/Evergreen
3	Grant of Arms
Awards and Orders conferring Awards of Arms
1	Willow/Silver Oak
2	Purple Fret/Queen's Favor/Doe's Grace/King's Chalice
3	Dragon's Tooth/Dragon's Barb/Cavendish Knot/White Chamfron/RedCompany
4	Gaping Wound
5	All other Awards of Arms